TELSTAR JUNIORS DO COMPARATIVELY WELL IN BASIC SKILLS ASSESSMENT

M. S. A. D. #44 eleventh grade students at Telstar Regional High School performed comparatively well in a statewide assessment of reading, mathematics, and writing skills conducted last fall by the Maine Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

The 100 Telstar students taking the test scored 84% compared to the statewide average of 84% in reading and 82% compared to the statewide average of 82% in mathematics.

The Telstar students performed less well in the writing portion of the assessment. The writing consisted of seven test items—four multiple choice requiring selection of written passages and three open ended items involving ordering an item by mail, filling out an application blank and describing a "traffic accident."

In reading, the items tested the students on comprehending what is read, analyzing what is read and using what is read.

Mathematics items tested the students on understanding concepts and facts relating to numbers, computing with numbers, fractions and decimals, understanding basic mathematical processes, solving problems in academic and social contexts, solving problems in a consumer context and understanding measurement and geometric units.

The assessment was carried out according to Chapter 73 of the 1977 Private and Special Laws of Maine enacted by the 109th Legislature which directed the Commissioner of Education and Cultural Services to conduct an assessment in the eleventh grade of all Maine schools prior to Jan. 1, 1978. The summary of the statewide assessment was delivered to the Governor and Legislature by Feb. 1, 1978.

Citizens desiring further information should contact either the Superintendent of Schools (824-2185) or the Telstar Regional High School Principal (824-2136).

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Bethel's Annual Town Meeting will be held next Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21. The municipal election will be held Monday, March 20, at the Bethel Fire Station with polls open from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. The General meeting will be Tuesday evening, March 21, at the Telstar Regional High School Auditorium starting at 7 o'clock.

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening, March 13, and acted on a variety of items.

James Norris from the State Bureau of Taxation met with the Selectmen to discuss the valuation of forest land. There are issues within the state laws regarding forest land valuation which appear to be conflicting and the Assessors wanted to discuss these laws and their implications. Bob Chadbourne and John Gray representing the P. H. Chadbourne Co., also participated in the discussions. The Board made no decision regarding these issues pending advice from the Town's legal counsel.

David Myers and Gerry Durgin met with the Selectmen to explain the proposed five week summer basketball program for Bethel youngsters. They indicated that the cost of the program would be $450. As the warrant for Town Meeting has been posted, the Selectmen after voting to support the program, indicated that they should contact the Recreation Board and that any amendment to the proposed Recreation Budget should be introduced by a member of the Recreation Board at Town Meeting.

A letter was received from the Maine Municipal Association asking if the Town wanted to participate in the MMA's intervention in the Central Maine Power Co. rate increase hearings. The proposed new rates could mean a 50% increase in the cost of old type incandescent street lights of which Bethel has about 100. The Selectmen voted to participate in this effort with Selectman Bradley Barker abstaining from the vote.

The Board spent considerable time in discussing the retirement plan for full-time employees. The Board voted to recommend at Town Meeting that the Town join in the Maine State Retirement System. This system would cost approximately the same amount as our present plan, however, it would improve benefits to employees, particularly the older Town employees. It was also voted that no prior service credit be recommended. The Budget Committee has also voted to support these recommendations.

The Board voted to send a letter to Kathy Tremblay indicating their support to the group of local citizens working to establish improved health care delivery for the citizens of Bethel.

Discussions were also held about procedures for the upcoming Town Meeting. The next regular meeting of the Selectmen will be Monday, March 27, at the Town Office.

There are two proposed ordinances which the voters will be asked to approve at the Town Meeting. The first is a Solid Waste Disposal Ordinance and the second is a Street Design Standards Ordinance. Copies of these proposed ordinances are available at the Town Office and will also be available at the Fire Station on election day, March 20, and also at

SUNDAY RIVER LANGLAUF IS A SUCCESS

On Sunday afternoon over 70 ski racers gathered at the Sunday River Inn for the 6th Annual Sunday River Langlauf. Racers came from Bethel and as far away as Vermont and Massachusetts. Every one from the ages of nine to fifty spent the morning testing wax and checking the course. Everyone had his own secret recipe.

The race was run in two heats. At the sound of the whistle the 11 year old and under class charged off on the 8 kilometer course. The race was won by Kirsten Forburg with a time of 14:55; Keith Wright was second and Carol Siartr placed third.

When the whistle sounded a second time 60 men, women and youngsters leaped from the starting line. After a few wipe-outs and tangles the racers dashed into the woods on the 5 kilometer course. Twenty minutes and 44 seconds later Scott Heller of Cape Elizabeth won the 5 kilometer race in 11:15 class. Jay Wheeler of Berlin, N. H., won the 10-40 class in 20:47. The over-40 class was won by Dennis Bicton of Rumford in 25:40. Larry Damon, a former olympian, bested a field of 27 to capture the 10 kilometer competition class with the time of 34:03.

After the race the contestants feasted on oranges, received their prizes and vowed to return next year.

West Bethel

— Mrs. Lona Gilbert, Corres. —

We have had some nice weather in this area the past few days. A lot of sunshine. The temperature the past week in early morning from around zero to 26° above, warmed up most days so thawed a little during middle of the day. I think everyone will be glad to see the end of the snow. It has been with us a long time. A few flurries the middle of November and on Thanksgiving morning, the 24th, found the ground covered with snow that came during the night. As of Monday, the 13th, 20° and a nice sunny morning.

A lot of people in this area have taken advantage of the good weather on the week end to visit friends, skiing and traveling the trails with snow machines. A party from here went from Gratton Notch to Success Pond Sunday. They met a lot of other machines on the trails. They enjoyed a cook out on the ice in the middle of the pond.

The Ladies Chapel Aid met at the home of Ruth Gilbert on Wednesday evening, March 8 with nine present. No special business transacted. The April meeting at Polly Haines with pot luck supper.

On Sunday, March 12, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davis entertained at a dinner party. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis, Mrs. Dot Bennett, Mrs. Clara Rolfe, Mr. Davis was celebrating his birthday. Cake and ice cream were enjoyed later with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis and Becky Sue of Bethel. Other visitors during the afternoon were Miss Candy Bennett of U. of M., Farmington, and friends, who were returning from a trip to Vermont; Keith Bennett and sons of Mechanic Falls, Robert Crockett and family of East Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert and family of West Bethel.

Mrs. Steve Wilson and girls of Waterford were visitors of her mother, Mrs. Dot Bennett Saturday.

Sunday visitors of the Roberts were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Seames, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Cole, Duane Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts, all from Locke Mills.

A group from West Bethel enjoyed the evening on Saturday, March 11 at Town and Country, Gorham, N. H. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Haines, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Head, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert. A birthday cake was presented to Lawrence Davis, as his birthday was the next day, March 12 by Robert Gilbert, who planned the trip for the evening.

Mrs. Maxine Lovejoy attended a birthday party on Friday for Mrs. Dorothy Graves at her home in Sudbury Village, Bethel.

Mrs. Lovejoy visited a friend, Mrs. Marion Tibbets in Norway, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Roberts have had colds.

Newry

— Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres. —

Communion services were held at Newry Community Church Sunday morning.

Easter season plans for Newry are as follows: Regular service at 9 a. m., Palm Sunday, March 19, Good Friday service at 7 p. m., March 24. Newry will meet with Upton at Upton for a Sunrise Service with pot luck breakfast after the service, Easter Sunday, March 26. There will be an Easter Service at Newry Church at 10 a. m., Easter Sunday.

At the Annual Town Meeting, on March 6 the sum of $50.44 was appropriated for interest on the Ministerial and School Fund notes. This amount has been appropriated each year since the late 1800's, making some $4,500, which has been paid as interest on these notes. There are two notes, totaling $840.75, dated in 1886. Actually this has not cost the town anything since the interest is credited to the school accounts, and subtracted from the amount to be appropriated for education. Back in the 1800's lots were set aside in each municipality as school lots, the income from these lots to be used for support of schools. These lots were sold, the town hired the money and gave notes to the M. and S. fund with interest at 6%.

Several years ago the town wished to appropriate the sum of $840.75, pay it to the school appropriations, and get the notes paid off. Legal council said that this could not be done, since the income from the notes must be paid to the schools each year. The only way the notes could be retired would be to appropriate the money and invest it, then apply the income to the school budget. If the income was less than 6% the Town would have to make up the difference. This would have meant an additional $840.75 in that year's appropriations.

These are the only outstanding notes the Town of Newry has. Newry has not hired any money as Tax Anticipation Notes since the mid 1960's. In 1964 $20,000 was hired to help finance building the Raymond Foster School. When M. S. A. D. #44 was formed in 1965, the District took over this note. In the late summer of 1975 at a Special Town Meeting, it was voted to anticipate two units of State Aid money to complete a project at Sunday River. Since the State funds for this purpose had been expended for the fiscal year, Newry hired the entire joint fund, $4,477.20, and paid it to the State. This note was paid off in December of that year. After the beginning of the next fiscal year, the State refunded their portion, $3,411.20 to the Town. In 1977 $15,000 was hired to buy a new Highway Department truck. This note was paid off in less than two months.

The Selectmen met Monday and made the following appointments: Planning Board, three years, Philip Korhonen and Jack Dennis; Board of Appeals, three years, Fred Bucky, Frank Lowell was re-appointed Building Inspector and Code Enforcement Officer, for a one year term; Registrar of Voters, Mrs. Louise K. Tetley; Ballot Clerks, Eleanor Morton and Ida Powers, with Sue Wight and Nancy been in poor health for some time. Our deepest sympathy to his wife, Iva and all relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson have many friends in West Bethel.

Mrs. Maggie Lowell was admitted to Rumford Community Hospital on Tuesday.

NEWRY MOTHER'S CLUB

Newry Mother's Club met Monday, March 13, at the home of Audrey Brooke. Nancy Wight, president, called the meeting to order. Opening prayer was by Gil Seeley.

It was reported that Valentine favors had been taken to Andrews Nursing Home in South Paris by Helen Morton. Easter cards were signed for shut-ins, Doris Lane and Pearl Bennett. A donation was made for Easter candy baskets with the committee being Gil Seeley, Brenda Bartholomew, Karlene Bachelder and Sylvia Wight. Dues were collected.

The next meeting will be on April 10 at the home of Doris Hale in North Newry. Members are requested to bring crafts for show and tell. Refreshment committee will be Gil Seeley, Barbara Yates, Nancy Dennis and Brenda Bartholomew.

Following the business session, Brooks Morton explained the Community Food and Nutrition Center and stated the opening date is planned for Monday, May 1.

Wight as alternates; Director of Civil Emergency Preparedness, Edmund Seeley, Stephen Wight, Nancy Dennis and John Gauthier were appointed to one year terms on the Recreation Committee, with two more members to be appointed by the Windy Valley Snowmobile Club. C. Roy Woodman of Readfield was chosen as auditor.

The Selectmen have been advised by legal counsel for the M. S. A. that before turning any money over to the Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club for construction or maintenance of snowmobile trails, the club should agree to insure the Town and Town Official against any possibilities that may arise from construction, repair and use of these trails. It was voted to investigate the possibility of having the town truck rustproofed and the purchase of a C. B. radio for this truck. Possible use of State Aid Funds was discussed, but no decision was reached. Also discussed was the Town taking over winter maintenance of the Viking Village Road on a contract basis. Further study will be made before a decision is reached.

The Assessors will meet at Bear River Grange Hall April 3, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. for the purpose of receiving the list of estates to be taxed.

Mrs. Karlene Bachelder took Brent Bachelder and Tracy Gordon, Bethel, to Rumford bowling and to a restaurant for lunch Saturday in honor of Brent's birthday. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder were hosts at a birthday party for Brent and Aaron Bachelder and Peter Morton. Guests were Jack Morton, Mrs. Colby Roberts and grandson, Howard Roberts, Andover. Birthday cakes made by Mrs. Bachelder, and ice cream were served.

Mrs. Eleanor Morton entertained Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morton, Jr., Bethel, Harry, Jack, and Peter Morton Sunday in honor of Peter's birthday. Cake and ice cream were served.

— Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres. —

Both Sylvia and Abbie Morrison have gone to Concord, Mass., for visits and school.

Elden Yates has moved to Augusta and a job from school in Auburn.

Alva Morrison expects his father to visit him in the near future. Elden Yates has changed autos.

South Woodstock

— Olive Davis, Corres. —

Betty Wright, son, Nathan, and Lucier Wright's mother, Lorraine Lucier of Warner, N. H., spent the week end March 3, 4 with Mrs. Nicholas Clements and family. They enjoyed cross-country skiing at Sunday River in spite of our March winds.

Alvah Hendrickson, who has been in the Ledgewood Memorial Home at West Paris for the last two years, passed away March 5. The funeral was held at the Adventist Church at one o'clock on Wednesday. Interment will be at the Wayside Cemetery at West Paris in the Spring.

Olive Davis called on several patients in the Ledgewood Home Tuesday. Lizzie Russ was celebrating her 90th birthday March 7. She had a special visit.

Many of the towns people attended town meeting at Bryant Pond Monday. It was a long session lasting until about 11 p. m. There were 55 articles to wade through. The moderator did a remarkable job to run through so many questions in that length of time. The crowd was very orderly which helped.

Kelly Wing Hart was tendered a personal shower at West Paris in the Legion Home by Tommy and Joan Poland March 5 at 2 p. m. There were around 35 in attendance. Kelly received a big variety of articles for the baby. The hostesses served delicious refreshments capped by a decorated cake for the occasion.

The old March wind has made up for his behindness. He certainly changed the chill factor the last few days. Mt. Washington reported 100 mile wind up there. We had at least 35 here. This isn't very good hiking weather as one can freeze easily with the chill factor so low and the wind impeding your progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Olive Davis were in Rumford shopping Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hathaway took supper Thursday evening with Olive Davis.

 ADULT EDUCATION NEWS

Shelley French and her S. A. D. #44 Adult Education Class on Plants and Flowers are getting a head start on Spring. Each Thursday evening plants of all kinds are brought into the class room at Telstar by both Shelley and her students. Some of the more common plants one might see are the Spider Plants, Philodendron, Swedish Ivy, Wandering Jew, and the Asparagus Fern along with the more unique or exotic ones such as Dracaena, Donkey Tail, and Bromeliads.

Shelley shows how to tell if a plant is healthy and states that many plants which are brought in stores other than Florist Shops may need a great deal more attention and care to survive. The class learns the various types of house and garden plants,

 how to care for them, what to look for in buying new ones and how to transplant, and start new plants from old ones. Another interesting lesson is readying the house plants for out of doors in the Spring and preparing the plants for the house in the Fall.

This 10 week course includes the planting and caring for Min-

 Cactus arrangements. Shelley also shows her class how to identify plants such as Ivy and Ferns, the Lower Light Plants, Cactus, Succu-

 Painting and Dried Flower Arranging.

Shelley has been responsible for decorating many local banks, restaurants, and business Establishments with her plants and is successful in home landscape gardening. She comes by her knowledge and love of gardening and plants quite naturally as her mother and grandmother are both avid gardeners.

Abby Norton, Shelley's grandmother was a well-known teacher
 for many years in the Bethel area.

Before opening her "Plants,

 executive secretary to the Chief of Naval Operations at the Pentagon

 secretary to the Vice Chancellor of Vanderbilt University in Nash-

She is the mother of a two year

CORRECTION
 The Lewiston Daily Sun of March 13 in a report of the Town of Andover's Annual Meeting incorrectly quoted Roger Mills Sr.
 in his remarks concerning Telstar Regional High School. It should have read the school was an "open sore" and not "open sewer" as the article stated.

TOWN MANAGER'S COMMENTS

 was required to close its open burning dump in 1977.

Pursuant to these laws and rules
 and regulations, the Town of Bethel established and is operating a sanitary landfill facility. This facility must operate within the guidelines set by law and is monitored by the State periodically to insure compliance.

As the Town is new to this type of solid waste disposal, we are trying various methods to see what best meets citizen needs, keep costs at a minimum, and yet meets state and federal requirements. During the coming year, we will be looking at other factors such as municipal pick-up of rubbish through contract and the contracting of the landfill to see if there are ways we can further reduce the cost of operating.

As part of our efforts to comply with state law and keep operating costs at a minimum, this ordinance is proposed to enable the municipal officers to properly operate the landfill and establish rules and regulations for its operations.

Street Design and Construction
Standards Ordinance.
 —Background Information

Present State law specifies the methods and procedures for a town
 to follow in laying out and accepting new town roads. These laws, however, do not establish any construction standards for new roads.

One can well ask: Why do we need standards? If we look back 50 years, town roads were mostly gravel and it was not necessary for them to be passable at all times during the year. Today, we live in a very mobile society and all residents rely on roads being open and in good condition at all times.

Because of this need and the tremendous costs of constructing, reconstructing, and maintaining town roads, it is very important that adequate regulations be in effect
 to keep costs at a minimum.

Most roads accepted by the Town in years past were little more than good horse and buggy roads. Today we are spending substantial sums of money to rebuild
 and maintain these roads.

The intent of this ordinance is to require that all new roads laid out and accepted by the Town be constructed to standards that will eliminate the need for substantial amounts of town tax monies being needed to upgrade and maintain these roads shortly after they are built. Although Bethel has not had a major problem in this area,
 many small towns (some not far from us) have been faced with substantial costs in this regard because they were not adequately prepared.

To give an illustration, an individual builds a private road, development takes place, and the individual fails to maintain the road for one reason or another. Residents or businesses on such a road come to the Town and ask that they maintain it.

Through Town Meeting action,
 these roads are usually accepted
 and then all taxpayers are put

In the position of paying for the upgrading of the road.
 If the Town is to keep highway costs within reason, taxpayers cannot be placed in the position of facing costs that originally should have been the responsibility of a private individual or company.

These specifications will serve as an aid to builders in constructing roads and will help eliminate misunderstandings between the builder and municipal officials which can easily occur where there are no written guidelines.

These standards have been developed by the Board of Selectmen, Planning Board, Town Manager, and Road Foreman during the past two years. Much work has gone into them and many changes have been made during the development to make the regulations fair and reasonable to all concerned.

DR. GARBARINI TO OFFER
QUESTION/ANSWER COLUMN
 Dr. Stephen Garbarini, Bethel chiropractor, is working on a new column concerning itself with question and answers from all Citizen readers. Dr. Garbarini is a member of the Council on Nutrition of the American Chiropractic Association and is President of the Oxford County Chiropractic Society.

Questions may be asked concerning anything from chiropractic health care in general, to nutrition, vitamins, minerals, drug-less remedies, etc. For instance, there are hundreds of "natural medicines" and household items that can be used to aid in healing and pain. Did you know that honey may be useful for healing and relief of burns?

Dr. Garbarini will welcome all questions including any natural remedies that you have tried and may want to share with other Citizen readers. Your questions should be sent to the Doctor's office c/o Paradise Road in Bethel.

 went into the running of races
 plus the hotdogs and hot cocoa af-happy faces of kids winning and losing. Keep up the great work!

Sincerely,

NOTES FROM THE LIONS DEN

The Bethel Lions Club recently presented to Mrs. Virginia Kelly, Director of the Bethel Youth Ski Touring Program two complete sets of cross-country equipment - skis, poles, and boots.

The Bethel Youth Ski Touring Program began last year to introduce the young people of the community to the joys of skiing. The program runs four days per week with a total of 80 children and a dozen adult volunteers participating. Some of the equipment is used by children involved in the Bill Koch League races.

The Bethel Lions Club is happy to support this project and who knows? Perhaps there is a budding U. S. or Olympic champion in the midst of the young people.

The Lions Club has recently welcomed two new members to its group - Jim Brown and Pat Murphy. All club members have been actively visiting other Lions Clubs in the District picking up new ideas on fund-raising and community service projects.

The Light Bulb Sale is in full swing and is going well. If you need light bulbs please contact any Lions Club member and they will be glad to get them to you. Your continued support of the Lions fund-raising efforts will help them to help others in need.

If you are interested in Lionism or if you have any project that you think the Lions Club can help with please drop in to a meeting. The Bethel Lions meet

Northwest Bethel

—Clarice Gibson, Corres.—

After the winds of the first of last week, we thought that spring was certainly coming. It seemed so good to be able to just run outdoors again without being loaded down with clothes and boots (we can only go without boots where it has been shoveled or plowed). Joe Shimamura called us up about a week ago and asked if we would like to go with him and Gerry on a chartered bus to Boston for the flower show March 12. We decided to go. The bus left Norway at eight Sunday morning. Ira had to be at Bethel at 6:30 to get a ride up to Sunday River to work. We got to South Paris early and went into McDonald's for a place to wait. Gerry had grapefruit juice and I had orange juice (unsweetened, girls). While waiting for the bus I saw my cousin, Nettie Kimball Bennett from Lovell and her sister-in-law, Sharon Benson Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson. A lady came up and asked if we remembered her (we didn't). It seemed Frank used to clean her furnace when we lived in West Paris. Then Isabelle Rolfe, (Jeanne Fleck's mother, Sunday River), came around getting the names of everyone so we wouldn't get left behind. Before we got started, Hope Tibbets and Mrs. Frank Vogt, Bethel, got on. At this time Frank, Joe, and the bus driver were the only males on the bus. At Oxford, they did pick up another male. We stopped at Howard Johnson's, Kennebunk, for a brunch. The show didn't even open until twelve and we got there before 12:30 p.m. and it was already full. They had little miniature flower gardens or woodland scenes. Some had fountains in them. The rhododendrons and azaleas seemed to be outstanding. As we went in there were trees or shrubs (anyway they were over our heads) just dripping with a yellow flower. These were called acacias and are related to the locust tree. They also had a huge vase of red roses. It was taller than our heads. One garden was planted completely with white flowers and shrubs and was supposed to suggest tranquility. The end of the hall had trees about like ours. They had plants that had been grown under artificial lights, rooms to show how to arrange plants, windows to show what to grow on windowsills, herb gardens, a cactus and succulent garden, displays that amateurs had grown and got prizes on. These, of course, had on the whole a better assortment. They also had one section with full bloomed many colored pansies. About the only flower arranging I saw was Japanese flower arranging. All in all it was lovely and am glad that we went. We were to meet at the bus at 3:30 p.m. and people were standing in line to where the bus was waiting and beyond.

We were to stop and eat at Yoken's in Portsmouth. Here I met one of my sister's teachers from when we lived in East Stoneham. The tables were for eight and when we sat down who was at our table but Mrs. David Foster, the East Bethel correspondent, and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Hamlin. The girl beside me was Mrs. Jane Kimball. I went to school with her husband when I was going to Bridgton Academy and he lived about three houses from us when we lived on Meeting Corner, South Waterford.

Mrs. Elaine Hutchins was hostess at a stork shower honoring

Elaine Hutchins says at least one woodchuck thinks that it is near enough spring to come out of his hole and stay as she has spotted him several times lately.

Saturday as I was sitting in the living room, a grey squirrel tried and tried to get into one of the windows by scratching on the pane. He got discouraged so he went away from the window always and pounced (the snow is up to the sills all around the downstairs) to get in. This didn't work so he climbed up the frame
and tried to get in the top window. I have plants in the bay window and figure he must have wanted some.

Mrs. Elaine Hutchins and Shilo, and Elaine's mother, Mrs. Marjorie Conner, went to West Bethel Union Church to a pot luck supper and a film on Japan, "Shikari Pass."

Pat Anderson, Thelma Merrill, Jody and Billy Shimamura, all went to the film at the West
Bethel Church.

Lee Elzing got her new 4-wheel drive pick-up truck Friday. She thought it would be much easier to get the wood out for winter.

Douglas Smith and Dan Lavoie, Lewiston, left Saturday morning
for Florida and points of interest.
Hope I can get a rundown of his trip when he gets back.

Charles Mason was home for the week end but had to go back Monday.

Jennifer Mason, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason III has been sick for over a week.

Little Nicholas Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman, is now much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon
had week end visitors over the 4th. Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Derry and children, Lori and Lisa, from Derry, N. H. Little Amy was four years old March 5 and with her parents and guests went alpine skiing at Mt. Abram. The birthday cake was a special cherry cake shaped like a parakeet and she got a real parakeet for a present.

I understand Mrs. Debbie Seames, is not feeling too well because of cold, flu or whatever.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy were supper guests Thursday of
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon.

Dick and Sue Angevine with children, Ricky, Sheri and Timmy
and snowmachines left Saturday for Colebrook, N. H., to stay overnight with Dick's uncle and family the John Angevine's. Mr.
and Mrs. John Angevine and Mr.
and Mrs. Dick Angevine went out snowmachining that evening. They left early the next morning on snowmachines for Pittsburgh, N.
H., where the Pittsburgh Snowmobile Club were having a steak feed. They sold 600 tickets in advance. Sue said they must have all showed up because snowmachines were going and coming all the time.

Kristy Angevine was not feeling well so she spent the time with Gram and Gramp, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bond and two boys visited his sister and two great-nephews, Mrs. Thelma Merrill, and Jody and Billy Shimamura Sunday.

Ricky and Sheri Angevine, Robert Saunders, and Billy Shimamura went to a record-hop at Telstar Friday.

Billy Shimamura went to the party Jane Hathaway gave at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hathaway's, Locke Mills, Saturday
evening. This was for the varsity cheerleaders and basketball team.

It is easy to be pleasant
When life flows by like a song,
But the man for whom life is one
who will smile.
When everything goes dead
wrong.

For the test of the heart is trouble
And it always comes with the years
And a smile that is worth the praise of earth
Is the smile that shines thru the tears.

TELSTAR MIDDLE SCHOOL

The following composition was recently written by Sean Kersey, a seventh grade English student in Mrs. Elizabeth LaVallee's class at the Telstar Middle School.

Alone
The billowing clouds made pink silhouettes in the sunset as a gentle breeze whispered quietly among the towering firs. Occasionally a robin or bluebird would flutter by as the two young hikers sauntered down the old deserted road.

The hikers, both boys, were on a camp out. They had wandered away from camp and had become lost. Peter, only fifteen, was a small and intelligent boy. Being lost at night with nothing but his coat, some matches and a friend made him very nervous. John, on the other hand, was just the opposite. He was a big, strong boy, whose interests were far from academic. He didn't enjoy school or anything like it.

When the boys came across the road, their immediate thought was that it would quickly lead them to a house where they could call and inform the rest of the group of their whereabouts. What the boys didn't know was that the road was deserted and the nearest phone was miles away.

After they had walked for some time and it had grown dark, Peter spotted what looked like a car. When the boys had jogged a few more steps, they saw that it was a car which had, by the looks of the tracks, had been forced off the road into a ditch. In fact, it was their friend Jeff's car. Peter and John looked over the car; it was badly damaged. The windshield and wheel were completely ruined. They found bloodstains on the seat and assumed that someone had been seriously injured. They searched the area around the car forgetting their own problem for the moment. They found nothing and, now, more worried than ever, they continued walking down the lonely road.

While the two boys were walking, John stumbled over an object. It was too dark to see what it was, but they felt certain that it was a body. It had sharp, pointed objects protruding from it. They knew this because one had torn John's pants. In his panic, John fell and his hands landed in a pool of warm sticky liquid which could only be blood. Panic stricken, the boys fled from the scene at a full gallop.

Suddenly a terrifying moan came out of the darkness. The boys stopped dead in their tracks. "What was that?" squeaked Peter. Then they heard it again. "I don't know," whispered John. "Do you suppose it's Jeff?"

"Well, there is only one way to find out," Peter said weakly. The two boys slowly walked over to where the sound was coming from and there unconscious on the grass was Jeff.

"Oh, no, now what will we do! I haven't seen a car all night, and it is too dark to keep walking to get help!" cried Peter.

"Alright, just calm down. I'll go for help and you stay here and watch Jeff."

As the night progressed, the air grew colder. Peter built a fire. Then, with old logs and pine boughs, he made a shelter. The shelter wasn't big, but it was better than nothing. He then spread boughs to make a bed for Jeff, but he could not sleep himself because he kept remembering the dead body in the road. Questions flashed through his mind. What forced Jeff off the road? Whose body was that in the road? Where was John now?

Early the next morning, Peter heard something. It was an ambulance. The sight of its flashing light and sound of its siren made Peter relax enough to realize just how tired he really was.

Then again he remembered the other body. Now with daylight and other people around he was not quite as frightened. He jumped up and raced down the road in the direction of the body. When he saw it, he was greatly relieved for it was not human, but instead, it was a deer which must have darted out in front of Jeff's car the night before.

DRIVER'S "REACTION TIME" IS IMPORTANT

SAY MAINE STATE POLICE

The Maine State Police remind motorists that "reaction time" can be the most important time in a motorist's life.

"There is a time interval between the instant a driver sees danger, and the resultant reaction to avoid it; thus, seeing danger as soon as possible is important in keeping out of a traffic accident," said Colonel Allan H. Weeks, Chief of the Maine State Police.

A motor vehicle operator has no time for casual, leisurely appraisal of the countryside, for turning attention to rearranging children in the car, or any other activity which diverts attention from driving, said Col. Weeks.

Today's driver not only has to be aware of the car ahead, the car behind, the one approaching, the one that may cross in front, and the car parked at a curb; but also, of careless pedestrians, youngsters on sleds or bikes, and other traffic emergencies.

The expert driver keeps tabs on everything which has to do with driving and excludes anything and everything which might interfere with concentration upon that activity," said the Maine State Police Chief. "This is done because reaction time can carry a vehicle an appreciable distance, even after danger is recognized."

BILL COHEN From Congress

House and Senate conferees have reached agreement on legislation curbing mandatory retirement based on age. Passage of the final version of this bill is expected in the very near future.

As a member of the House Select Committee on Aging, and as a principal co-sponsor of the original House bill on the subject, I am delighted that the Congress is taking this important step toward guaranteeing the elderly a fundamental civil right—the right to work as long as they are willing and able.

The legislation has two key provisions. The first would ban mandatory retirement based on age for virtually all Federal workers. In doing this, the legislation establishes the Federal government as a model employer in determining a person's capacity on the basis of competence, not age. The experience of the Federal government with this program should help allay the concerns of those who fear that ending mandatory retirement will have undesirable side effects.

The legislation also begins to phase out age-based retirement in the private sector by prohibiting mandatory retirement for most workers before age 70. The Senate version of the bill has denied protection under this provision to tenured college professors and persons whose annual pensions (excluding Social Security) exceed $20,000. The conferees agreed to a compromise offered by House Aging Committee Chairman Claude Pepper which delays for three years raising the retirement age for professors. This provision was intended to give professors equal protection under the law, while permitting universities and colleges adequate time to work out tenure problems. The final version of the bill retained the 65 retirement age only for top executives with private pensions of more than $27,000 per year.

While the bill is not, in its final form, as expansive as I would have preferred, it does mark a milestone in the struggle to guarantee the rights of older Americans.

House Prayer
On Tuesday, March 7, Rabbi Norman Geller, spiritual leader of Congregation Beth Abraham of Auburn, gave the opening prayer in the U. S. House of Representatives.

Rabbi Geller has long been active in religious and civic affairs in the Lewiston-Auburn area. In addition to his duties at Congregation Beth Abraham, Rabbi Geller serves as the director of speech pathology at St. Mary's General Hospital in Lewiston. He also serves on the boards of many charitable organizations in the State.

I was delighted to be able to arrange for such a distinguished Maine resident to give the opening prayer in the House, and I would like to share with you the text of Rabbi Geller's inspirational prayer:

Lord, I offer prayer to you, with and for this great country. Instill in its designated leaders a zeal for justice, a passion for truth and an ultimate goal of peace. With your blessings and their guidance, may these attributes occur in the world, in our republic and in every human being.

May the great sounds of power, wisdom and righteousness be heard throughout this land; but let them not muffle the sounds of conscience and decency.

With trust in God and compassion for mankind, may the work of your hands be continually prospered for good so that through your efforts, the United States of America will be more than a title but a grand and glorious way of life.—Amen

—Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.—

At the beginning of the second week in March, the winds certainly were not hunched in their stables.

How strong they were as they raced, driving the light snow strong wind that I had a surprise.

As I sat in the car, in Norway by the Medical Building I spied a bird in a lilac bush right beside the car.

It stayed there clinging with its feet at every blast of the wind. I observed it closely for more than five minutes. It was a bit larger than a robin, longer tail, white in the outer tail feathers, grayish above, whitish or white in the lower wing, long bill. I came home wondering but found it in my bird book—the Eastern Mocking Bird! I had never seen one.

The remainder of the week white masses of clouds have moved across the blue field above. We lifted our heads higher, our hearts quickened for March was again showing us promise—the promise of spring.

On one of these days I decided to go to the falls at the lower end of the Big Pond. I could have walked most of the way but I knew I'd need my snowshoes to go through the woods to the falls so I put them on.

Although winter is still in possession of the land, the days are perceptibly longer. Winter's charms fade ever so slowly at this time of year. Today, though, the warmth struck for fair and the sun was strong and ample. My path was solid ice with a frosted miracle of ornamentation. I could plainly see where some of that snow which had swept down the pond had lodged.

All around me the stage curtain was pulled back; gray clouds had hurried to the wings, bright sun and blue-blue sky everywhere.

I left the pond for the forest and along the brook to the falls. Here I heard a little carpenter at work. This perky little Downy Woodpecker was poking fussy around, talking. Then I heard an answer, a nasal chirp and so back and forth they called. These little fellows are brimming with personality and individuality.

Through this woodland, beneath the ice, twisted the moving waters. They match the mood of the seasons. Back on the hillside and down the ravine there was an urgency to plunge beneath the snow and ice. The pool beneath was rather small and there weren't as many forms of ice as I usually find. But above the pool the picture was fascinating. From high up there was a single icicle, the tip wet and shiny in the sun. Beneath, a window had formed. It extended all the way down to the pool, transparent. Small rills were glistening and swirling beyond the glass; their quick movements contrasting most impressively with the drop of the water at the right.

After standing loose and lost for awhile, I went out through the grove of young trees, white maples. I discovered an ice and snow-free pool. It was green with moss which mingled with autumn's drenched leaves. The ridge to the right shadowed it. This was steep with many boulders. A few years ago I would have climbed it but not today. Among the rocks there were carpets of Christmas ferns whose fronds have retained their dark glossy green throughout the winter. Above were the clouds plodding across the blue or curling along like a great gray wolf.

I continued on to the swampy area and Cattail Point. They will soon be inhabited by nesting Red Wings among their stalks.

When I enter a swamp I think of Thoreau for he was partial to them. He speaks of them as a township where one forest waves above and another rots below—fitted to raise not only corn and potatoes, but poet and philosophers.

Ahead of me was an alder swale, a place I go only in winter. I easily walked through it today and crossed the road to Pussyslow Corner. I picked a few, made a curving track across the field back to the road where I removed my snowshoes to walk home.

I had read the messages of the coming season in the swelling of the maples of the swamp, the plump pussy willows, and the shrinking of the snow.

The selectmen at the Greenwood town meeting were authorized to appoint a committee to name the

STATE OF MAINE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Karen L. Brown

The Maine Turnpike, built as a toll highway, dependent upon toll fees to maintain it and to pay off investors who provided the construction funds, was scheduled to become a toll-free highway in 1981 when the bonds will be fully paid. A bill to keep tolls on the Turnpike won final approval this week in the House and Senate and is now awaiting action from Governor Longley. I did not support this measure since it provides for several toll stations at various points and I favored only one at a southern location.

The bill passed provides for the retention of no more than three toll barriers. The exact location of the highway barrier and the toll amounts will be determined by a future legislature. The measure also eliminates the Maine Turnpike authority and places the responsibility for road maintenance within the Department of Transportation. Approval of this bill may require the state to pay back $10 million contributed by the federal government to construct access roads with the provision that the road would become toll free in 1981.

Supporters of this bill have expressed concern about removing the toll fees, claiming that the state gasoline tax would have to increase in order to pay the annual $4 to $5 million maintenance costs for the Turnpike. Concern was also expressed over the increased energy consumption which would result from repeated stops at the barriers. Opponents objected to the bill since it did not specify where toll barriers would be located or the amount to be collected. Governor Longley has questioned whether retaining the tolls would hurt efforts to attract new industry to Maine. If he should veto this bill, a two-thirds vote of both houses will be required to enact the bill over the governor's objections.

The spruce budworm legislation introduced to this session would remove sections of the state from the budworm spraying tax rolls. The House gave this measure all but final approval on Tuesday of this week. The Senate has already given its approval, and the issue which returns annually to the Legislature, appears settled for this session.

The measure, which passed the House Tuesday, exempts mountainous areas of western Maine, some coastal sections and small landowners in Aroostook County from the special spraying tax levy. To support the spraying program the states charges 35 cents per acre in flatland to about $12 per acre in mountainous areas. I argued that allowing these areas to pull out of the program would weaken the entire spruce budworm control program and hurt the state's forest industry.

I recently introduced resolutions honoring the Telstar Regional High School cheerleaders for winning the State Division II Cheerleading Championship for 1978 and the Telstar Rebels who recently won the New England Interscholastic Ski Championship.
